

SMALL POX CLINIC PROVED POPULAR

Wilmington Public Health officials were surprised at the turnout Tuesday morning, for the first free Small Pox Vaccination Clinic to be sponsored by the Town of Wilmington.

244 children received their vaccinations from Dr. Gerald Fagan, assisted by School Nurses Sylvia Levine and Mrs Edward Martin, and Public Health Nurse Anne Butters.

A long line of parents (the Town Crier counted 91 at one time) extended out onto the sidewalk and towards Burlington Avenue, and CHIP WASN'T IN FAVOR OF THE IDEA: Chip Emery, 5 year old son of Mr and Mrs Donald Emery of Kendall Street didn't think very highly of the idea of being vaccinated by Doc Fagan, Tuesday, in the Community Hall of the Old Age Housing Unit.

MASS VACCINATION IS OKAY WITH THIS FAMILY: Mrs Edward A Grano of Aldrich Road had five youngsters for the Public Health Small Pox vaccination program, Tuesday.

FUGITIVE ARRESTED IN WILMINGTON

A fugitive from justice, wanted for Armed Robbery, was arrested in Wilmington Monday by Chief of Police Paul J Lynch, at the Terrell Corp plant, on Woburn Street.

James Richardson, who, the police say, had as aliases James Avery, James Powers, and James Griffith, was the object of an intensive search by the FBI. He had returned recently to this state, and had a car registered in Westford under the name of James Griffith.

Chief Lynch and two FBI agents began looking for Richardson last Friday, when the FBI received a report he was working in a 'glue factory' in Wilmington.

The three men combed all possible places in Wilmington, Woburn and Tewksbury, and as a last resort, on the thought of Officer Ballou, checked the Terrell Corp plant on Woburn Street. Terrell has nothing to do with glue, but does manufacture polymer plastics.

Richardson was the first man the three police officers saw, when they went to the Terrell plant, Monday afternoon. He had been employed there, under a different name, for about three weeks.

The children are to be brought again to the Community Hall on Deming Way, in order that Dr. Gerald Fagan, Public Health Physician may 'read' the inoculation, and determine its effectiveness.

Dr Fagan will be in the Community Hall from 9:30 am to 11 am Tuesday, for this purpose.

TWO CERTIFIED FOR POLICE DEPT BY CIVIL SERVICE

Two Wilmington residents have been 'certified' as being on the eligible list, for appointment to the Wilmington Police Department.

The Division of Civil Service of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts has certified Robert P. Palmer of Faulkner Avenue, and James Maris of Middlesex Avenue.

Eight men from Wilmington took the examination.

PLANNING BOARD TO BE HOSTS TO REGIONAL MEETING

Planning Boards of Middlesex and Essex County are to meet in Wilmington, next Wednesday evening, for a regional meeting of Region 5A, Massachusetts Federation of Planning Boards.

Wilmington Planning Board member Herbert D Nickerson, of Marie Drive, is to be a Co-Director of the meeting, which is to be held in the Avco dining room, 211 Lowell Street.

The meeting, one of the more important functions in Regional Planning, will include Planning Board members from nearby communities, and from places as far away as Manchester-by-the-Sea. It will begin at 6:30 pm., and the principal speaker, Samuel P Snow of Lexington, is scheduled to speak at 8:15pm.

Mr Snow, a Professional Planner for the Lexington Planning Board, will have as his subject 'Balance between Industry and Residences'

SPECIAL TOWN MEETING MAY BE MAY 11

The Board of Selectmen, Monday night, set a tentative date of May 11 for a Special Town Meeting, for the purpose of voting for a new school, on Woburn Street.

The meeting date was set, and is subject to confirmation later this week, after a conference with Robt Michelson of the Permanent Building Committee.

Mr Michelson told the Selectmen that the PBC hoped to be ready at this time, and in effect relayed a message that had been written by the PBC the Thursday previously, in a letter that warned that the Selectmen should take the earliest possible action to acquire the Hall and other property, in order that the PBC could proceed with plans for the new school.

The letter from the PBC was not read, at the Selectmen's meeting.

The Selectmen's meeting was the first for which the new Town Manager, Jerry Bouchard, had made his own preparations. He had prepared an Agenda for the meeting, the first such agenda to be had in a number of years. Mr. Bouchard intends to have such an agenda for every meeting, and only those items which are listed are to be discussed, according to his way of thinking.

ing to his way of thinking.

A long discussion was held relative to drainage on Hobson Ave with Lawrence Flaherty and Hazel O'Brien, with no definite results.

Charles H Black was elected the new Chairman of the Board of Selectmen.

TIME TO FACE UP TO THE PROBLEMS

For the past three years or so the people of Wilmington have been treated to a fabulous show which has been promoting the interests of some people, rather than the town as an entirety.

A town which has been shown to be solidly behind the Town Manager Plan has been in effect misled by people who sought honors for themselves, instead of facing squarely up to the problem of the town - honest and straight forward effort, on the part of officials, and a spirit that will enthruse the people, rather than discourage them.

All this is to be regretted, but there is now a chance that this will be a thing of the past - that chance being the election of Charles Black to the Chairmanship of the Board of Selectmen.

Mr. Black has a world of experience in town government. He has shown in the past that he could pick up the good proposals and help the town achieve things for its own good.

In accepting the Chairmanship Mr. Black now has the problems squarely on his own shoulders.

Is Wilmington to be a town of enthusiastic volunteer citizens, looking for things they can do to help the town - or is Wilmington to be a town where a Vigilant Dozen attends Selectmen's meetings, just because they suspect something is wrong, and they are determined to see for themselves?

Mr. Black, as Chairman, can provide the answer.

WILMINGTON SHOULD BACK THE NASA EFFORTS

The news, a week ago, that William F. Callahan, Chairman of the Mass Turnpike Authority, was hoping to build a multi-storied structure over the new turnpike near Soldier's Field, in Cambridge, for NASA, was taken by many to mean the doom of any efforts to locate the $50,000,000 facility elsewhere.

Nothing could be further from the truth. The chairman of that authority, who is having trouble selling bonds, is willing to have any possible help that will make the Turnpike look better to the bankers. Mr. Callahan is a very astute man, but the site of the NASA laboratories have not been settled upon, a fact that has been confirmed by Congressman Brad Morse.

The two sites, one north of Wilmington, and the other in Wilmington and Woburn, are still definitely in the "running", with the Woburn site having, in the estimation of this paper, a slight advantage.

Either site would be of tremendous importance to this town, and to the towns and cities contiguous to Wilmington.

Wilmington's Board of Selectmen should go on record as endorsing these sites. Such an action can do no harm, and possibly, in the long run, might be quite beneficial to the town

TO ARMS, MEN!

To Arms, Men! The Redcoats are Coming!

Here for all these years your editor has been warring with Town Managers who don't know how to add up tax rates, and with Selectmen and other officials who goofed off, but that has all been in fun.

When something came along that promised to do a little about reducing the tax rate your editor was in there, shooting, but that too, was just in fun.

Because it never affected the editor's back door and other residents of this fair town could look suspiciously and mutter "It don't bother him because it isn't in his back yard" - the "it" being an Industrial Zone, or a Shopping Center.

The point is that your editor has led a free and easy life, with nothing to bother him, and of course he could yell his fool head off about taxes and Town Managers.

But now it is different!

A man is going to build 25 homes, behind the new proposed Woburn Street school, and we'll be able to see some of them from the back upstairs bedroom window!

It's a terrible crisis, men! Get that trusty Brown Bess down from the fireplace and head for the stonewalls, for the Redcoats are Coming!

Just think of it men! Practically in our own back yard!

Of course someone will say "Well, why didn't you buy the land? Then this couldn't have happened!"

That guy, of course, is all wet. He doesn't understand the First Principal of Community Action.

TOWN NOTES

The Gentle Nudge

By and large it was a raw and cold March, but on the first day of April the wind shifted to the SW, and Spring began to gently nudge the good people of Wilmington.

Back yard gardeners are scanning the old weed patch, wondering if they can get their peas in early enough this year to win the Golden Pea Spoon from the Town Crier, and fishermen are watching for their first sign of spring - the State fish truck that stocks the streams with trout.

So far, no trout have been stocked in Wilmington this year, but the truck was down to Horn Pond in Woburn Monday.

The Battleground

This year the weather was very rough on roads, during the month of March, but the good people of Wilmington could have a measure of pride in their community in that our roads seemed to hold up better than did those in the neighboring communities, and even some of the State Highways.

All except Ballardvale Street, where a motorist can expect his car to shake to pieces if he drives over 15 miles an hour.

The residents of that street have a new name for it.

Radar Check?

Two different reports, last Saturday, had the State Police on top of bridges that are over Route 93, each time with a mysterious black box, and a blue light of some type.

The Town Crier did not see them, but received reports that State Police were on the Woburn Street bridge, and on the bridge of Route 125, both over 93.

There was, the reports stated, a black box, pointed down the highway, and State cops further down, watching a blue light which was near said box.

It sounds to us as though the cops were checking speeders, by radar.

Working Officials

The Boston Globe, Tuesday morning, had a story about the Selectmen of Yarmouth cutting brush, in back of the Town Offices.

Now-a-days you never buy the land. You just band together with fellows from other parts of town who are similarly threatened over the place where they go blueberry picking, and you all yell "Spot Zoning!" or something like that. Community Action! That's the answer!

So now there are to be twenty five houses where we used to pick blueberries and let the blue jays scream at us.

Kids will be falling out of trees, and the Brave Fire Laddies will come driving up, sirens screaming.

Dogs will be romping through our tomato patch, and we are positive that the third house over is going to be a place where the parties always last until three am., or until someone calls the cops!

This is serious, men! Don't just stand there and grin!

Why, come to think of it, it would be nicer if there was an industrial park there. Then the people who worked there would be going home about 5 pm, and there would be no kids falling out of trees, nor parties until 3 am, nor dogs in the tomato patch!

But we wouldn't have that kind of luck!

JEHOVAH'S WITNESSES Kingdom Hall, Bridge Lane.

The Wilmington Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses will commemorate the death of Jesus Christ, on April 8th., by observing His commandment at Luke 22:19 'Keep doing this in remembrance of Me.'

This Memorial of the Lord's Evening Meal is celebrated annually after sunset on the 14th day of the Jewish month Nisan, the same day that Jesus instituted the 'new covenant' with his followers.

In view of the great love that the Creator has manifested towards mankind through His only-begotten son as a means of a ransom sacrifice, and because of all that was accomplished by Jesus in his life and particularly by his death, it is most fitting that his death be commemorated.

The Scriptures say nothing about celebrating Christ's birthday, but they do record Jesus command to keep a memorial of his death. For this reason Jehovah's Witnesses honor the death of Jesus, rather than his birth.

This year Jehovah's Witnesses in the Wilmington Congregation, which serves Winchester, Woburn, Burlington, and parts of Billerica and Tewksbury, as well as Wilmington will come together to commemorate Christ's death on April 8th at 8 pm, at the Kingdom Hall. The Memorial discourse will be given by Mr William Tseko, a local minister and representative of the Watchtower Society. All persons of good will toward God are invited to associate with them that evening and to be benefited by what they hear and say.

On Sunday April 7th at 3:30 pm in Kingdom Hall, a special Bible Lecture is to be delivered on the subject: 'Resurrection of a Dead Body or a Dead Soul - Which?' This same talk is to be delivered in over 22,000 Congregations of Jehovah's Witnesses in 189 different lands. The public is cordially invited to attend. The talk is free, and no collections are taken.

LETTERS

March 28, 1963

Dear Larz:

I make reference to Mr. Minot Anderson's letter published in your paper on March 28th and more particularly the following paragraph wherein he stated: "For instance, while there is time to consider, it would be constructive if one of the glubusers of the phrase Spot Zoning would give its definition; and state the chapter and section of the General Laws and the Town's By Laws where this definition will be found. At present Spot Zoning is just a dirty word, and if applied often enough, and vehemently enough, the dirt rubs off on the subject".

Since Mr. Anderson is our Building Inspector and Zoning Officer, the above referred letter can not be ignored as one from a well meaning but frustrated taxpayer. I believe any intelligent, reasonable person, reading said letter would interpret it to mean that no where in our laws is Spot Zoning defined, thus the term, in itself, has no legal effect of meaning. Nothing could be further from the truth.

As Mr. Anderson knows, or should know, there are two sources of our law concerning the interpretation of Zoning. First, the General Laws and By Laws, and secondly, the so called Common Law, as laid down in decisions rendered by the Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts. While it is true that the statutes or by laws do not contain provisions relative to the definition or scope of Spot Zoning, it is not true that the law itself does not provide a definition.

For a thorough discussion relative to defining or setting up guideposts as to what constitutes Spot Zoning as called by the Supreme Court, I respectfully refer Mr. Anderson to the leading case on point, namely "Leahy vs Inspector of Buildings of New Bedford, 308 Mass 128" and the many decisions which have followed this case.

As was stated in the case of J. Newton Smith vs Board of Appeals of Salem, 313 Mass 622; "This is a plain case of what has come to be called 'Spot Zoning', a subject so recently and fully discussed in the case of Leahy vs Inspector of Buildings of New Bedford, that further discussion here is unnecessary".

My point of this letter is to stress one thing only, (and incidentally a point I stressed when a candidate at Candidate's Night at Baldwin Civic) that Spot Zoning and the use and meaning of this phrase, is a highly legal and technical matter which can only be applied under a given set of facts and interpreted by someone trained in municipal law. Clearly, if the proposed Zoning change or amendment is construed to be Spot Zoning, such change or amendment is invalid and illegal. In my opinion it is the responsibility of the Town Council to pass upon each and every article submitted to the voters pertaining to Zoning as to whether it is in fact, spot zoning. If individuals have doubts or reservations, their questions should be directed to him. If other attorneys or qualified experts disagree with his opinions, adequate recourse is provided by the law.

Yours truly,
Roland I. Wood.

Dear Larz:

For a long time I have been looking for a creative outlet for myself and some of my pupils in the Wilmington School of Ballet, and I think I have found it.

I didn't want night clubs or that sort of thing - it is no place for the boys and girls who are to be the citizens of tomorrow.

But, I have been requested to be 'Ballerina' with a group in Bedford who are planning to do two or three operas a year, and I have accepted with great enthusiasm.

This week I finally got to meet the choral director and my new colleagues, and it was quite a happy occasion. She was happy to have ballet dancers for their group, and expressed the desire that she could have more, in the future, preferably Junior High and High School students. With many girls this is a new discovery, a modern romance in pantomime, put to music.

But, as in all plays, operas too, have their tragedies, their fights, and their deaths.

I am thrilled at this opportunity to express dancers' techniques, and hope that I will have others with me, in the near future.

Yours sincerely
Wheee Chislette

FOUR BOARD OF APPEAL DECISIONS

The Board of Appeals of Wilmington has handed down four decisions, during the past week.

A variance, to allow for the building of a house on Federal St. near Concord Street, was granted to Nancy Clark, as agent for Frank P. and Marjorie Stevens, of Pilgrim Road, Winchester.

The case (5-63) was heard on March 5th. The opinion of the board was that a substantial dwelling could be built on the lot (lot 3A) without violation of front, side or rear yard requirements.

Case (4-63), heard of March 5th., granted to Anthony J. Triglione, of Woburn, permission to erect two signs on the Wilmington Auto Parts building on Middlesex Avenue. One sign is to be 3 feet by 18 feet, and the second, lighted, non-flashing, will be four by six feet.

John Benevento, of the Benevento Gravel Company of Salem Street was granted permission to erect a Bituminous Concrete Mixing plant on his property, in a case that was heard on February 12 (Case 3-63). The minimum distance from the transmission lines of the New England Power Company is to be 400 feet, and the board stipulated further that, if in the opinion of the Building Inspector, the emission of fumes or smoke becomes a nuisance, he shall order the plant to cease operations until such condition is corrected.

In a case heard on Feb. 12, 1963, (Case 2-63), Elmer and Marion Woller of 29 Main Street were granted a variance to erect a dwelling on lots 28 and 29, Carter Street, with seven feet lacking, in the required depth of the lot.

THE METHODIST CHANCEL CHOIR

Second row: Barbara Brown and Mrs Roger Mills, sopranos, Grace Ball, Sandra Goodearl, AND Judith MacMelville, altos, David Holbrook and Paul Standish, basses, and Bob Hezlitt, tenor.

The Chancel Choir of the Methodist Church is to present, next Sunday (Palm Sunday) at 8 pm., in the Church, 'A German Requiem' by Johannes Brahms. The featured soloists will be Mrs James Daniels of Arlington, and The Reverend Carlton Talbot of Fitchburg.

'A German Requiem' was composed in 1866 as a Protestant counterpart to the popular Catholic funeral masses of the day. It is entirely made up of quotations from the Scriptures, leading towards the climax in St. Paul's triumphant exclamation in I Corinthians: "For death shall be swallowed in victory! Grave, where is thy triumph? Death, O where is thy sting?"

Brahms' score is a great proclamation of the Easter message of life after death.

Mrs Daniels, the wife of the pastor of the Arlington Heights Methodist Church, is a graduate of the Westminster Choir College, Princeton, N.J. She has been the soloist in the 'Requiem' with the Choir of the Presbyterian Church in Haddonfield, N.J. She is currently a soloist with the Arlington Philharmonic Orchestra and Choir.

Mr Talbot will be remembered for his singing in the presentation last year of 'Olivet to Calvary'.

He is an ordained minister, currently serving in the Methodist Church in West Fitchburg. He has served churches in Rochester and Lynn. After studying voice with Mrs Doris Hagerson in Buffalo, Mr Talbot entered Boston University School of Theology, and is to be graduated this June.

The choir will be under the direction of The Reverend G Alfred Hess, Jr., Associate Minister and Director of Music, and will be accompanied by Mr Olin London. The presentation is to be in English.

It seems the Selectmen wanted the town to buy a set of Annotated Law Books, for $400, and the town refused, in Town Meeting, but did appropriate a sum of $450 for cutting the brush.

So the Selectmen cut the brush, to earn the money, to buy the books.

We saw Wilmington's Town Counsel and Library Trustee, Philip Buzzell, down painting the outside of the Public Library once, as a sort of public service to the town, but we don't believe he was being paid for his efforts, so that neither Philip nor the town got any Annotated Laws out of that effort.

Prexy in the Dark

Somebody didn't tell the President of the Rotary Club of Wilmington about the contest with the Reading Club.

It seems that the Wilmington Club and the Reading Club had come to an informal agreement that there would be an 'attendance contest' between the two clubs, for a two month period, with the losing club to have to wash to dirty dishes for the winning club.

The contest started in March, and was, instead, for one month. And, somebody slipped - for President Harold Foley of the Wilmington Club didn't know about it for a couple of weeks.

Harold is the kind of fellow that wields a horsewhip, if necessary, to get Rotarians to attend meetings. (A horsewhip may sound cruel, but it isn't as bad as John Nitchie's habit of calling up delinquent members at 3 am)

Anyway, by the time that Harold was able to start looking for his horsewhip the contest was already half over, with the consequences that Wilmington Rotary LOST!

It was the first time that such a terrible event ever happened to the Wilmington Rotary, and Prexy Harold is thinking of buying a good Cat 'O Nine Tails, in an effort to spur the members on to bigger and better attendance records.

And, he cannot get away with any ordinary excuses, for the Reading Rotarians have the evidence, certified by Sgt. Imbimbo and Officer Pat Leonard were called down to the Reading Club, Monday, to count the dishes. Their pictures will probably appear in this week's Reading Chronicle, along with an ill mannered boast or two from the Reading Rotarians.

Ricky's Coach

A friend of Ricky Froton has received a five page letter, describing Ricky's experiences as a baseball rookie, at Ocala Florida.

Ricky likes it. They have a tough grind, every day, working-out for 5 1/2 hours, to which he doesn't object at all.

Ocala, according to Ricky, is a place where everyone goes to sit on the benches that line the streets, after supper time.

He has three coaches, Charley Wagner, Red Sox pitcher in '46, and Mase Brown, who also played for the Sox in '46, and Robert Doerr, who was a member of the Sox about 1950.

Ricky says he likes Wagner best, but that he hasn't had time to assess a new coach, who came in last Friday - fellow by the name of Ted Williams.

He Shoulda' Bet

Doc Fagan has returned from his Florida vacation with a story about a horse.

Doc says the only reason he noticed the horse was because of its name. It was called 'Go To It Doc', and was running in one of the tracks in Florida.

Doc took the trouble to find out how the horse had run, and learned that it had paid off 9 to 1.

De Governor

Our last item of this week is to report on the activities of Bill Stevens, of Coombs Furniture. Bill is, as many know, Governor of Rotary District 793, a district that includes clubs from Amesbury to Boston.

It has been a busy year for the Governor, as he is required to visit each and every Club, and also to have a sort of pre-visititation visit with the club officials.

But Bill has borne up under the burden, and last week he added an unusual feather to his cap, in that he installed a new Rotary Club, one in Lynnfield.

It is the first new club in the District since 1958. It had 26 members for its first meeting, and this week it had 32, which is somewhere in the neighborhood of a 25% gain in one week.

'Fastest Growing Rotary Club in the World' boasts Bill 'and right in my district!'
